

“Reaching Illinois College Students” Listening Guide

1. Zach Wehrach is a Next Gen church planter at Blackburn College in Carlinville who works with _____ college students.
2. Wehrach said his ministry with college students is almost like working to reach an _____ people group in central Illinois.
3. Wehrach said college students do not want to hear or be talked to about God. They want to _____ God.
4. _____ Illinois Baptist campus ministers across the state are trying to turn back the tide of college students who no longer believe the church is relevant.
5. _____ students attend college on more than _____ campuses across Illinois.
6. Wehrach said he hopes to change the culture of the campus into a _____ campus that is calling out to God.

“Reaching Illinois College Students” Listening Guide

1. Zach Wehrach is a Next Gen church planter at Blackburn College in Carlinville who works with _____ college students.
2. Wehrach said his ministry with college students is almost like working to reach an _____ people group in central Illinois.
3. Wehrach said college students do not want to hear or be talked to about God. They want to _____ God.
4. _____ Illinois Baptist campus ministers across the state are trying to turn back the tide of college students who no longer believe the church is relevant.
5. _____ students attend college on more than _____ campuses across Illinois.
6. Wehrach said he hopes to change the culture of the campus into a _____ campus that is calling out to God.